WHY LANGUAGES?

The study of languages, cultures and literature gives us a better understanding of our modern, complex and multicultural world. Our faculty members represent over 10 countries and speak: Arabic, Chinese, Danish, Dutch, English, French, German, Italian, Hebrew, Japanese, Polish, Russian, Spanish and Yiddish. We sponsor numerous activities such as film festivals, trips, speakers, language clubs, and a wide variety of study abroad possibilities. The Department of World Languages and Cultures creates a dynamic environment that prepares students to become global citizens.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Department of World Languages and Cultures is a culturally and intellectually diverse and welcoming community of faculty, staff, students, and alumni who value knowledge, multicultural awareness and the free and responsible exchange of ideas. Through the exercise of analytical rigor in our different language and culture disciplines we and our students: critically interpret language and symbols; thoroughly examine cultural artifacts and discourses; and seek to understand global, cultural, political, and historical perspectives. Working with our faculty, our students learn how to read and think analytically in English and in the target languages, communicate effectively in speech and writing in both English and the target language, work with diverse partners, and participate fully in culturally diverse experiences. The mission of the Department of World Languages and Cultures is to help students acquire linguistic and cultural skills to communicate successfully in a language other than English, prepare students to appreciate linguistic and cultural diversity, and motivate them to continue, after graduation, for lifelong learning in the context of a global society in the 21st century. The Department of World Languages and Cultures recognizes and follows in all its courses the World-Readiness Standards for learning languages set forth by ACTFL.

CURRICULUM

All of our academic programs will teach students to read closely and think analytically, write clearly, speak articulately, and evaluate and present evidence wisely and accurately. We will prepare students to become informed global citizens by engaging with people and cultural artifacts from different languages and traditions, and by interacting with people and experiencing places different from their home communities.
