Descriptions

Registration for the Spring 2020 semester begins on Tuesday, November 5, 2019 and runs through Friday, November 15, 2019. You can find the date and time at which you become eligible to register on PAWS. If you have yet to do so, please familiarize yourself with the PAWS system.

This is the ideal time to make an appointment to see your faculty advisor in philosophy. Email works well for purposes of making that appointment. Or you can phone or just drop by during office hours. Our full contact information is listed here: <http://philos.pages.tcnj.edu/faculty/>

If you are unsure who your advisor is, you can check your PAWS account. Or you can contact Cecilia Colbeth – 609.771.2539 or colbeth@tcnj.edu. Ms. Colbeth can also let you know your advisor's office hours.

Make sure you are acquainted with PAWS. The “what if” reports (under “advising tools”) can be particularly useful. If you need any help with the system, please contact your advisor directly. Ms. Colbeth may also be able to assist you with many issues.

The Mini-Catalog lets you know just what courses our department will offer this coming spring and gives you some detailed information about those courses. It can be found at the end of this letter and at <http://philos.pages.tcnj.edu/>. Please do not hesitate to contact the instructor if you have any questions or need additional information about the course!

The last page of Mini-Catalog consists of a table summing up the requirements for the philosophy major as well as for the specializations in Ethics and in Law and Philosophy and for our programs in religion and classical studies. This would be a good time to review those requirements against what you have already accomplished to see what you need to do next. To help as well, please see below for an “idealized” sequence of courses for the philosophy major.

If you have already taken Introduction to Logic (PHL 120) but no other course in philosophy, do keep in mind that you might want to take another 100-level course before you tackle our upper-level courses. Seats in both Contemporary Moral Issues (PHL 135) and in Introduction to Philosophy (PHL 100) should remain available for first and second year students throughout registration period. Similarly, if you've already taken those courses, it might be time to do Introduction to Logic. Again, seats should remain available for first and second year students. Please do let Ms. Colbeth know if you face any obstacle there. These courses are described in the Mini-Catalog.

For those majors and minors who have already done some work in philosophy, our schedule for the spring is amazing. It includes History of Modern Philosophy (PHL 205), Indian Philosophy (PHL 210), and Environmental Ethics (PHL 265). Modern Philosophy is required for the major, and both Indian Philosophy and Environmental Ethics may count as philosophy electives. We are also offering Ethical Theory (PHL 350) and Metaphysics. Ethical Theory counts towards the Ethics major requirement, and Metaphysics satisfies the Epistemology or Metaphysics requirement for the major. Again, please do not hesitate to contact the instructors directly for further information!

Especially for juniors . . .

You should take special care that you are on target for completing your senior capstone requirements. The one-unit Senior Project is usually completed during the spring term of the senior year but depending on the student's individual situation can be completed during the fall term instead. The two-unit Senior Thesis is typically completed over both terms of the senior year (the Senior Thesis Research in the fall and the Senior Thesis in the spring). Whether you are on the usual schedule or not, around the time of registration the term before you are ready to begin the capstone – that is, now, if you plan to start the capstone this coming term -- you should do the following:

- (A) identify the faculty member you would like to complete your senior capstone with;
- (B) contact that person to set up a meeting;
- (C) try to agree on an area of common research interest and on whether your aim should be a senior project or a senior thesis; and
- (D) enroll in the appropriate component of the capstone with that faculty member. That person will henceforth serve as your project or thesis advisor.

And, between now and the time when you actually begin the capstone work, keep in close contact with that advisor so that any necessary preliminary groundwork can be accomplished.

Especially for seniors . . .

We are so excited and happy for you yet so hate to see you go! If you haven't yet arranged for a job or a seat in law school or graduate school or other program, please keep clearly in mind once you leave us that we will always be here to support you – to continue to serve as your advisors and to write letters of recommendation on your behalf and for anything else you may need. Your rights to our services and our enthusiasm for providing them do not end at graduation; they are yours for life. Please just let us know what happens next; please stay in touch.

| | .04 Govantes | 5:30 – 8:20 PM W |

A course that examines the fundamentals of philosophical argument, analysis and reasoning, as applied to a series of issues in logic, epistemology, metaphysics and ethics. Topics covered may include: logical validity, theories of knowledge and belief, the nature of mind, the nature of reality, arguments for the existence of God, and theories of right and wrong.
(LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing)

| | | |
|--------------------------------------|----------------|---------------------|
| PHL 120/Introduction to Logic | Sec.01 Roberts | 9:30 – 10:50 AM MR |
| | .02 Roberts | 11:00 – 12:20 PM MR |
| | .03 Roberts | 2:00 – 3:20 PM MR |

A course on the basic principles and techniques of correct reasoning in ordinary life, philosophy, the liberal arts, and the law. Study of the formal systems of sentence logic and predicate logic. Translation of natural language statements and arguments and analysis and evaluation of deductive arguments through the construction of proofs. Focus particularly on the power and precision of the natural language with the aim of helping students increase their ability to think and write with creativity, precision and rigor.
(This course is recommended for pre-law students and satisfies a requirement for the Law and Society Interdisciplinary Concentration and for the Law, Politics, and Philosophy Interdisciplinary minor.)
(LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing; Writing Intensive)

| | | |
|--|---------------|--------------------|
| PHL 135/Contemporary Moral Issues | Sec.01 Taylor | 12:30 – 1:50 PM MR |
| | .02 Pascale | 8:00 – 9:20 AM TF |
| | .03 Pasclae | 9:30 – 10:50 AM TF |

This course provides an introduction to ethics, one of the main branches of philosophy. It aims to familiarize students with basic concepts and theories in ethics, and with how they may be applied to a range of contemporary moral issues. Topics addressed may include racism, sexism, abortion, euthanasia, cloning, capital punishment, our obligations to the disadvantaged, the treatment of non-human animals, just war, and the like. Students will be encouraged to learn from great thinkers of the past and of the present, to examine their own moral values and beliefs, and to take reasoned and informed stands on the issues treated.
(LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing)

| | | |
|---|-----------------|---------------------|
| PHL 205/History of Modern Philosophy | Sec.01 McAndrew | 11:00 – 12:20 PM TF |

Prerequisite: One course in philosophy or permission of instructor

In this course we will address some of the most central (and exciting!) questions in philosophy through the work of some of the most important philosophers within the Western tradition. Drawing primarily on the work of the Rationalists Descartes, Leibniz, and Spinoza, and the Empiricists Locke, Berkeley, and Hume, together with the work of Kant, we will address three major issues: How can we have knowledge of the external world? Does God exist? Do humans possess free will? Since all three of these issues are live philosophical questions this course will not merely focus on providing an exegetical account of the views of the above philosophers whose work we will read.
(LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing; Writing Intensive)

PHL 210/Indian Philosophy

Sec.01 Le Morvan 2:00 – 3:20 PM TF

Prerequisite: One course in philosophy or religion or permission of instructor

This course critically examines major issues and positions in Indian philosophy of the Hindu, Buddhist, and Jain traditions. The course will revolve around four main questions: What is Indian philosophy? Who or what am I? What is reality and how can it be known? How should I live? Students will be encouraged to learn from great thinkers of the past and of the present, to examine their own values and beliefs, and to take reasoned and informed stands on the issues treated. (LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing)

PHL 265/Environmental Ethics

Sec.01 Sharadin 9:30 – 10:50 AM TF

Prerequisite: One course in philosophy or permission of instructor.

This course provides a comprehensive overview of the key issues and arguments within the field of environmental ethics. The course includes an examination of some basic issues in metaethics and normative ethical theory, and several kinds of ethical arguments for animal rights and environmental protection. We will also study major environmental movements, such as deep ecology, social ecology, ecofeminism and the environmental justice movement, and will consider selected public policy issues such as habitat preservation, land -use management, or pollution abatement. Special attention will be given to the issue of climate change, in particular, whether the present generations of human beings have a moral responsibility to future generations mitigate the effects of atmospheric pollution believed to be causing global warming. (LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing)

PHL 350/Ethical Theory

Sec.01 Taylor 11:00 – 12:20 PM MR

Prerequisite – One 200-level Philosophy course or permission of instructor.

This course will address the major ethical traditions of deontology, consequentialism, and virtue ethics. Initially, we will focus on the historically influential views of Aristotle, Immanuel Kant and J.S. Mill. We will then engage the more contemporary discussion of these theories, drawing on the work of 20th century moral philosophers such as John Rawls, Shelly Kagan, Philippa Foot, Bernard Williams, Peter Singer, Virginia Held, and Susan Wolf, among others. We will conclude the course with a discussion of the issue of moral standing and will attempt to answer the question “What things are morally valuable?” (LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing)

PHL 420/Metaphysics

Sec. 01 Preti 3:30 – 4:50 PM MR

Prerequisite: One course in philosophy or permission of instructor

A seminar promoting deeper understanding of core issues in contemporary theories of consciousness in the analytic tradition. Topics covered may include: dualist theories, type-identity theories, token-identity theories, the logic of identity, the nature of causation and scientific explanation, models of explanation, causation, theories of mental representation, artificial intelligence and zombies.

PHL 494/Senior Project*Prerequisite:* Senior status or junior status, and permission of instructor

A writing project prepared under the advisement of a member of the philosophy faculty. Students must complete a carefully researched and written, in-depth work in philosophy on a topic of significance in philosophy, selected by the student in consultation with faculty and written under the close supervision of a faculty member who serves as advisor.

PHL 495/Senior Thesis Research*Prerequisite:* Senior standing as a philosophy major and permission of instructor

Independent research under the guidance of a full-time faculty member on a mutually agreed-on topic. Students will be expected to define a topic suitable for a capstone thesis, conduct a series of appropriate literature reviews, and develop a writing plan.

PHL 496/Senior Thesis*Prerequisite:* PHL 495 and permission of instructor

A substantial writing project prepared under the advisement of a member of the philosophy faculty. Students must complete a carefully researched and written, in-depth work in philosophy on a topic of significance in philosophy, selected by the student in consultation with faculty and written under the close supervision of a faculty adviser.

RELIGION COURSES

REL 100/Basic Issues in Religion

Sec.01 Rech 8:00-9:20 AM TF

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to: different ways of analyzing religion as part of human culture, different forms of religious expressions (such as rites), and different religious beliefs.

(LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing)

REL 110/World Religions

Sec.01 Richardson 2:00-3:20 PM MR

This course focuses on the exploration of the world's major religious traditions. Students will examine and compare the essential teachings, and the historical and cultural context, of most or all of the following: Hinduism, Buddhism, Judaism, Christianity, Islam, and one or more additional non-western traditions.

(LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing; Global)

REL 111/Buddhism & Buddhist Thought

Sec.01 Thomas 9:30 – 10:50 AM TF

This course will study the historical and philosophical development of Buddhism from its origin in India to its modern day practice in Japan and Tibet. It will explore the essential teachings and practice of Buddhism both in its early and modern form found in India, Sri Lanka, China, Japan and Tibet. It will examine both primary texts from various Buddhist traditions and secondary materials in order to gain a better appreciation for this religious tradition which has survived in Asia for centuries and is gaining popularity in the West in recent times.

(LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing; Global)

REL 113/Islam and Islamic Thought

Sec.01 Thomas 11:00 – 12:50 PM TF

Course examining Islam and some of the intellectual traditions that have flourished in conjunction with it. Students will study the historical origins and essential teachings of this religion and explore some of the literary and philosophical traditions that developed from or in close connection with Islam.

(LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing; Global)

REL 121/Modern Judaism

Sec.01 Greenbaum 11:00 – 12:20 PM MR
.02 Greembaum 12:30 – 1:50 PM MR

This course will examine the fundamentals, history and development of the Jewish faith and way of life. The relationship between Jewish historical experience and the evolving theological responses to that experience will be traced. Primary texts, drawn primarily from the Jewish experience in the modern period, will be examined as illuminations of this relationship. The vocabulary of Jewish theological expression will be explored as it relates to the history of Jewish philosophical inquiry.

(LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing)

REL 170-01/Special Topic: The Bible and Sexual Terror Sec.01 Figueroa 2:00 – 3:20 PM MR

(LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing)

REL373/Women and Spirituality

Sec.01 Hopps 11:00-12:20 PM MR

This course focuses on the intersections of feminism and spirituality, examines the experiences of women in a variety of spiritual traditions, and examines how worldview is shaped by historical context. The question of how feminists connect to, critique, transform, and remember spiritual experience will be considered. The course explores several aspects of spirituality including language, ritual and creativity; it also considers what happens when feminists alter, shape, retell and interpret rituals and traditions. (LL: World Views & Ways of Knowing; Gender)

CLASSICAL STUDIES COURSES
